Description

Thick sheets of warped paper glued together to look like a frame. Center in background is sun over purple mountains, to right is red school building which looks like barracks; yellow and orange flowers in foreground near pink road leading to the school. Above the border, it reads, "To Karin", "Hideo", and "Color means my mood". Under that, it reads, "Memory of Grammar School" and "September 7, 1991" and is followed with his name.
