

Camp Jerome

Primary Maker

Henry Sugimoto

Medium

Woodcut print on paper

Description

Framed and glazed. Image of a mess hall (?) in Camp Jerome, Arkansas. The landscape is detailed with aspects of camp life, including a platform with containers (food, water?), several wooden bins, a lone electricity pole (left), and a row of barracks (right) with a leaning tree. The tree is a focal point of the image as its leaves spread upwards like fans; in the distance, a dark outline of a forest and the sky, and lack of any figures create a spooky, deserted feeling to the image.