Description
Framed and glazed. Image of a typical scene of a village in Normandy, France. A woman carries a milk pail walks up a dirt path behind a group of small buildings (center); a man (middle left) pushes a wheelbarrow. Small, irregular patches of grass dot the foreground, along with tall barren trees. The village houses are modest, with blue shutters and doors, and tall slanted roofs. The sky is a muted mix of blue, yellow and gray to indicate a certain time of day and chillier season.
