Description

Unstretched. Image of an open field (farm) in France. The landscape can be divided into halves, with the upper half consisting of a blue sky slanted towards the center of the image.

The lower half is composed of a flat field (in light brown) with several identifying features: a brown horse grazing on a small patch of grass dotting the plane; a woman hanging laundry next to a green and red movable house with wheels. The center of the image focuses on a large double tree (two trunks) and its turquoise, blue leaves blending with hilly background and sky (shades of dark blue).
