Haro Mollie-----

Long time no write neh! Well, I guess I'll have to do some explaining neh, but before I do any further how is everyone and everything with you? I hopes all's well. Let us see now, I have two cards in front of me that I got from you not too, too, long ago. You see the first card which was addressed to Woodland Road on June 27 wasn't given to me for over two months and I knew I had written you before that to let you know I had moved and was attending the Minneapolis Business College. Well, I suppose you got that letter one then on November 18 you addressed a card to that address and since that time I had moved to two other new addresses. Nope, not married yet, but am leading a pretty independent life. And like it too, instead of working for your boss and board and being tied down all the time, I'm free to do anything at any time. I'm employed at the North Country Wearables doing secretarial work for a Jewish man. Private too, and like it a lot. Sadie is doing pretty well down there in Chicago. She was up here until the middle of August but ~~went~~ down there and wished I were there too. This is a pretty dead city. I've been here over a year now and it's about time I had a change don't you think?

Are you still attending school? I graduated in the end of July and now have started nite school and taking up some more accounting. My bud is coming out here in January and will attend the U of Minnesota. I don't know, somehow I feel too dumb for the U. Shucks I'm plenty satisfied with the knowledge I acquired at the Business College and who knows I mite get married too soon to make use of all this. You know Kufi has been in St. Paul since August and we see each other often enough. He came especially up here so that we could be together from Missouri to intern at the St. Luke's Hospital. He'll be thru with interning pretty soon and then will be full pledged after he passes his tests. It's a wonder U.S. hasn't called him in yet. I'm just lucky to have a boy friend who doesn't have to be in there. This city is just full of them since Fort Snelling is right here. All the Japanese soldiers are here, next to Camp Shelby which has quite a number of them too. I see more guys like that but they don't interest me such. After all, keeping faithful to a fellow for over three years must mean more than ----- you know what.

Christmas is drawing near and what's up your sleeves? I've barely gotten over my headaches by completing my list for the family which consists of only 8 of them. Gee, packing them all and sending things is quite a job. The real thing I wanted to do was to pack myself and send me how,
